Nursery Newsletter

This week's learning...

Children will practise their counting and sharing skills while having a picnic or tea party with their friends.

Also we will be voting for our favourite story book. This will help us decide on how to decorate our book corner.

We will continue to explore our interests in the Nursery setting and develop our independence in the snack area.

STAR moments...

Last week in Nursery, we collected natural resources and used them in our learning.

We also enjoyed a cooking activity and practised our right of 'having and expressing our opinions' by voting for the book we want to read during carpet time.

Over to you...Home learning

- Watch Mrs. Taylor read the story 'The tiger who came to tea'. Invite your favourite toys to join you for tea. How many guests will you have? Can you help them share their food so they have the same amount each?
- Bug club: read the allocated books.
