This week's learning..

This week in English, we are going to delve into Howard Carter's discovery of Tutankhamun's tomb, thinking about how he must have felt when he saw his discovery for the first time.

As Mathematicians, we are beginning to look into subtracting 2 and 3 digit numbers. It will involve exchanging (borrowing) from a different place value column.

As Historians, we will be comparing the differences and similarities between hieroglyphs and the English language.

As Scientists, we will learn how to protect our eyes in the sun and design our own sunglasses!

In RE, we will be making a Christingle, while also looking into how Christian's use light within their religion.
