STAR moments

This week's happy leaves go to:

5R: Eesa, for showing independence during his Maths learning. Eesa was able to identify prime and composite numbers using his knowledge on factors independently. Well done!

5T: Jack, for his amazing independent learning at home which he shares with his classmates at school. For always being an eager and energetic member of our class!

5P: Miley, for independently writing an excellent diary entry from the perspective of a character using the features of descriptive writing and fronted adverbials. Well done Miley!

MEDIA MAYHEM

This week, in History we are looking at who evacuees were and why they had to move away from their family, we will also have the opportunity to use Now Press Play to enhance our learning experience.

In English, we will be role-playing as interviewers and discussing what witnesses would have said about children being evacuated from London during WW2. We will then include this in our news report using direct and indirect speech.

As readers, we will continue to follow the characters David and Tucky in Friend or Foe as journey evolves and they adapt to life in Devon.

As Mathematicians, we are moving on to multiplying numbers by 10, 100 and 1000 this week. We will also be multiplying numbers up to 4-digits with a 1-digit number. We will need to continue practising our times tables up to X12 to ensure we are able to use written methods for multiplication.

As scientists, we will continue to explore air resistance and gravity. We will carry out a practical experiment to explore the effects on a parachute landing.

In RSHE, we will continue to look at positive relationships and how we can build them throughout our daily lives.

In Computing we will be learning all about Fake News and how it has an effect on a person!
