This weeks learning..

This half term our topic is going to be focused on Express Yourself.

In Guided Reading we will be reading our new text: Miro's magic animals. What art style is this based on, do you know?

-In English we will be starting to express ourselves through our storytelling abilities and we will be using our new class book 'The Whisper' to help with this.

-In Maths we will be continuing our work with money and moving onto exploring time.

-In Geography we will be comparing our own England to sunny Spain. We will compare climates and the physical features of both countries.

-In Science we will be learning about the force of magnetism and all the other forces.

-In RE we are learning about Hinduism as a faith and some of its special ceremonies.

A busy but great week of learning ahead!
