STAR moments

This week's happy leaves go to:

5R: Lilly-Grace, for trying to use resources around her to help her become more independent in her learning. Lilly has even began helping her talk partner. Well done Lilly!

5T: Zainab, for being such a positive presence in our class. Supporting her talk partners with a helping hand and kind attitude.

5P: Hamza, for being a caring and supportive member of the class. He is always there to help others when needed and accepts support from his peers when he needs it. Keep it up Hamza!

Our topic is Global Treasures!

As mathematicians, this week children will be exploring percentages, where will compare quantities and find percentages.

As readers, the children will continue following the story of Gunner, the Viking Boy and exploring the hurdles that he faces.

As writers, the children will now begin planning and writing their very own non-chronological report based on the Vikings. They will have the opportunity to use the research that they gathered and the toolkit that they created last week to support them in creating their own report.

In R.E. we be looking what Sikhs believe about God and compare their beliefs with other religions.

In RHSE, we will be discussing the different types of support networks available to us and the impact support can have on our life.

As scientists, the children will be looking at how a flowering plant reproduces.

As historians, the children will be looking at the Viking attack on Lindisfarne, why the attack happened and why would they be attacked.

Don't forget!
